Environmental Treasures Program

presents

RUTH GORDON'S QUINCY!

SUNDAY, MARCH 27th at 2 P.M.

In collaboration with the Thomas Crane Library, the Environmental Treasures program is celebrating the life of actress and writer Ruth Gordon during Women's History Month. The Library will screen one of her films every Thursday in March (see thomascranelibrary.org for schedule) and will display Gordon memorabilia.

From her birthplace on Winthrop Avenue to her home on Elmwood Avenue to attending Quincy High School (now Central Middle School), Ruth Gordon was fully immersed in the life of the city. Sandy Johnson and Sally Owen will lead a free walking tour of Gordon's favorite Quincy haunts. The tour will include quotes from her autobiography, My Side, which is a beautiful ode to Quincy.

The meeting place will be determined by snow and ice conditions. Please call 617-472-0799 on March 27 for information. The rain/snow date will be Sunday, April 3 at 2:00 p.m.
